The classrooms of the Roosevelt building have served students well for the past 32 years. The class of 1956 will be the last high school group to graduate from the building.

More than three thousand students have used the chemistry lab, shop and cooking rooms since the first class graduated in 1925. Next year the junior high will move in to take over the structure and begin a new era.

Labor is expensive, therefore the high school and the ninth grade boys worked as teams and removed all rocks from the future baseball diamonds west of Cardinal field. The Commission supplied hot dogs and milk; and free tickets for a dance and miniature golf were given to each junior of Coach Eby's team as a reward for clearing their area first.

Junior high choraleers performed at the annual Thanksgiving assembly with a dramatic reading and group singing. This marked one of the high points of the year for the younger vocal groups.

In November, the F.F.A. sponsored their annual donkey basketball game in the old high school gym. December saw the Elks and the Recreation Department entertaining the teenagers of the community with a Christmas dance.

Community Shows Support . . .

Anticipation, excitement and curiosity overcame the town as the date neared for the Cardinal basketball team to open its home season in the new high school gymnasium.

Most pleasing to the people of Coldwater was the increased seating capacity which made the gym one of the largest in lower Michigan. The playing floor itself was regulation size, 84 feet long and 50 feet wide.

Although the classroom section of the building was not finished in time, the contractors put the gym floor, walls and entrances into condition by January 20. Thus the class of 1956 could say they really were in the new building.

Activities

"Variety is the spice of life"

Life in a democracy imposes obligations. Good citizens are the friends and neighbors who contribute time and energy to the various organizations and events which eliminate routine from school.

Amateur Actors Sway Audience With Romances

Melodrama, suspense, romance and a Chinese plot were all a part of the drama presented this year by the senior and junior thespians under the directions of Miss Betty Stevens.

On November 11-12 the seniors presented "Seven Keys to Baldpate," by George M. Cohen. The play centered around William McGee, a novelist who made a bet that he write a book within 24 hours in isolated Baldpate Inn. He was plagued by all sorts of interruptions which he found were caused by the man with whom he had made the wager.

Jerry Bussing

"Lost Horizon," dramatized by Anne Martens and Christopher Sergel from a novel by James Hilton, was the junior production which involved a plane crash in the Himalayas.

A group of Tibetans rescued the crash victims from Shangri-la, the mythical dreamland, after some serious romances developed.

The senior play cast included Dave Harris, Marcia Andrews, Saundra Bryan, Jon Woods, Hall Strong, Mary Carlisle, Glen Holtz, Fred Howlett, Tom Olmsted, Jerry Bussing, Dion Rumsey, Larry Knowles, Terry Tompkins, Sue Schwengel, and student director, Nora Rosenberry.

Over 100 Enrolled In G.A.A. and Lifesaving

The Girls' Athletic Association and life-saving classes combined included more than 100 high school and junior high students.

Under the leadership of president, Georgia Hinson; vice-president, Shirley Scriber; secretary, Karen Faller; treasurer, Betty Knowles; and Miss Phyllis Coscarelly, advisor, the G. A. A. paticipated in volleyball, basketball, ping-pong, badminton, and softball.

The club won second prize for its float in the Halloween parade. The Phyllis Mack trophy, which is awarded for outstanding sportsmanship, was voted to Betty Hodge, one of the club's most active members.

Betty Hodge's basketball team won the club playoffs by defeating Donna May's squad. Also, for the first time, the girls had a bowling league at the Coldwater Recreation Center on Wednesday afternoons after school.

With classes being held at the State Home and Training School, Hillsdale College, and Coldwater Lake, several boys and girls took junior and senior life-saving training.

Among the instructors were Mrs. Dorothy Aitchison, Kenneth Kline of the State School, Miss Rusty Smith of Hillsdale College, Ed Craren and some former high school students.

The courses included various holds, releases, carries, and the handling of small craft. Also shown were the different methods of artificial respiration. Each candidate had to be able to use many types of swimming strokes which might be necessary in saving a life.

Homecoming
Valentine Formal

Two of the most formal occasions of the year were Homecoming and the Valentine Formal. The student body voted Molly Milnes as the queen, and Mary Carlisle, Alice Swain, Gail Spoon and Jan Weakly as court members.

Selected to escort the girls to the football game and the dance afterwards were seniors Dean McCurley and LeRoy Van Stone and juniors Harry and Larry Morrison. The commission supplied corsages for the queen and her court and white carnations for the boys. Molly's escort was Larry Knowles.

Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y rented the Masonic Temple ballroom for the annual valentine dance. Almost one hundred couples danced to the music of Bob Stempien amid silver hearts and white flowers.

Annual Parade And Trip Gain Popularity

The annual Halloween parade was climaxed by the awarding of first places to the Tri-Hi-Y and C-Club for their timely and informative floats.

The Cardinal Service Club float was not among the cash prize winners, but was considered especially appropriate for the season which the scene represented.

On Saturday, May 19, eighty-five seniors left Coldwater by buses on the first leg of their annual field trip. They returned May 27, after visits to Annapolis, Washington, D. C., Williamsburg, New York City, and Niagara Falls. Mr. Oscar Renshaw and Miss Ilda Philips accompanied the class of 1956 on their eastern trip.

High School Receives New Juke Box

Democracy entails the cooperation and participation of each individual. Thus it is with the student representatives in the junior and senior high schools.

The young men and women who act as spokesmen for the other students must lay their personal prejudices aside and think how the entire school population would vote in given situations. In many instances the council and commission sat in on decisions which helped to formulate policies adopted by the school.

Comprising the busy schedule of the Roosevelt student commission were the purchase of a new jukebox, initiation of exchange assemblies and attendance at the Twin Valley student government conference at Clear Lake, Michigan.

Serving under the leadership of Mayor Roland Petersen were clerk, Delores Knowles; senior commissioners, Ruth Herman and Don Steffey; junior representatives Ken Furgason and Pat Fisk and sophomore commissioners Karen Faller and Janet Goodholm.

The major duties of the Lincoln Student Council included the planning of the four annual junior high parties. Chuck Harvey served as president. Council members were: ninth grade, Diana Mooi and Paul Herman; eighth grade, Kay Seaman and Phil Lindner; and seventh grade, Tom Smith and Doug Hemlepp.

The members also distributed canisters for the Easter Seal campaign.

Cooperation Of Everyone Produces Annual

The 1956 "Cardinal" staff has attempted to produce an annual quite different from those of past years.

Fred Noer and Frank Purcell of the Indianapolis Engraving Company and William Hartmann of Deluxe-Craft covers cooperated quite readily in fulfilling a single purpose, to please the students to whom the "Cardinal" belongs.

Several sections were combined into one in order to make room for more and larger pictures of various club activities. The athletic section was enlarged to include wrestling and cross-country. Completely new page balancing and typography was carried out by the Patterson Printing Company in the "Cardinal" before reaching its readers.

Mirror And Chatter Staffs Increase

"Meet that deadline! Get your stories in on time!" seemed to be the favorite words of the advisor and the editors of "The Mirror" and "Cardinal Chatter" as the time neared for stories to be turned in.

The journalism class, contributing weekly to both publications, helped enlarge the chatter page considerably and add to the newspaper.

The two staffs combined included more than eighty members. This tended to lighten loads as it reduced the number of stories each person had to get. It also allowed the individual more time to produce work of better quality.

Little do most students realize the work involved in producing a school paper. Stories are written, rewritten, proofread and then sent to the printers. From the printers come more proofs to be checked and corrected. Then a "dummy" is laid out in order for the printer to place stories where they are desired. Another set of proofs are then checked. Then the paper goes to press.

One of the highest awards for high school journalists is to become a member of Quill and Scroll, a national honor society of Northwestern University.

Four people, Dave Lyon, Connie Parshall, Molly Milnes and Ben Burk were named to receive pins this year for their outstanding work in the field of publications.

Dave Lyon wrote more than 1,500 inches of copy in three years on the "Mirror" staff. This does not include the writing done in junior high or on the "Cardinal."

Connie Parshall and Ben Burk served as editors of the newspaper during 1955-56. Each one previously wrote for publications for two years. Each was also on the "Cardnial" staff.

Molly Milnes was the second semester editor of "Cardinal Chatter." She served on all three staffs during high school.

Occupational Training Goal Of Co-op Plan

Norita Welch, Priscilla Sager, Donna Lenington

The Coldwater High School Cooperative Occupational Training program for the school year 1955-56 had, as its goal, on the job training, plus related classroom instructions. This program was aimed at providing the students with enough experience to get a full time job upon graduation.

Each student was given an achievement book which included a record of their work experience and the related instructions taken in school.

This year there were a total of 39 students enrolled on the program, thirty-three of which were seniors. These students worked for 27 differents employers. Sixteen of these students were retail trainers, 18 were office trainers and five were trade and industrial trainers.

Each person on the plan spent one-half of the school day in classroom work. The other half day was used to do the actual on-the-job work for which each one was apprenticed or qualified. Many of the boys and girls took related subjects such as retailing or merchandising.

The program was under the direction of Mr. John Bachman, who has been the coordinator for the past two years. The year was climaxed by a banquet with all employers and employees dining together.

F. F. A. Learns Farming Fundamentals

The main objective of the F.F.A. is to teach boys the fundamentals of farming. This group, consisting of 68 members, combines classwork with clubwork.

The boys learned not only the essential steps in producing crops and caring for livestock, but also they studied many of the latest scientific methods. Rotation of crops and which kinds of products build up the soil and which ones take away from it were all a part of the training which the farmers of tomorrow undertook.

One of the major projects of the group was to send four boys to the annual National F.F.A. Convention in Kansas City. Other activities have included a dance, seed sale, pest hunt, and a donkey basketball game.

With the help of Miss Lemoine Bogue and Miss Arlene Ritsema, advisors, the Y-Teens became officially known as the Tri-Hi-Y, part of the Y.M.C.A.'s sponsored youth groups.

During the year, the girls held a tea for the mothers, and were hosts to the University of Michigan district meeting. At Christmas time, they made favors for the hospital patients, and collected clothes and toys for needy children. The club sponsored an after-game dance, and co-sponsored the annual Valentine formal with the Hi-Y.

The cabinet consisted of president, Marcia Andrews; vice president, Donna May; secretary, Saundra Bryan; treasurer, Janice Weakly; chaplain, Judy Smith; and program chairman, Mary Carlisle.

Hi-Y Club Creates High Standards

The purpose of the Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend, throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character.

In living up to the purpose, the club helped around the school, donated money to the mile-of-dimes campaign, sponsored several after-game dances, and was a co-sponsor of the Valentine formal.

A group representing the Coldwater club was sent to Albion in November for a caucus. The purpose of this meeting was to elect minor officials for the Hi-Y Convention in Lansing in May.

The presiding officers were: president, Jim Austin; vice-president, Jerry Maxson; chaplain, Don Steffey; secretary, Dave Lyons; and treasurer, Ted Short.

Advisors were Mr. James Vincent and Mr. Carl Witte.

Cardinal Service Club Adds New Activities

"Be of service to the school" is the motto of the Cardinal Service Club. From its modest beginning in 1946, the club has expanded in size and in the scope of its activities.

Its twenty members serve in the following capacities: running projectors in classrooms, and in the auditorium for assemblies; checking group dues and taking tickets at professional assemblies and athletic events; and parking cars at football and basketball games.

Club president Ward Yearling and advisor Kermit Dennis procured armbands for the club to wear while on duty.

Officers include David Lyon, vice-president, and Hank Bailey, secy.-treas.

All of the services performed by the club do not receive headlines or glory, but the boys in this year's club waded mud, water and snow to help park cars at the parking lot north of Cardinal Field.

Climaxing the hard work of the year was a picnic where the boys were served refreshments and a good time as their pay for the duties they rendered to the school.

High Ideals Held By Varsity Club

The Varsity Club is an organization made up of athletes who have won major awards in varsity sports.

The club has high ideals and morals. A member can not smoke, drink or indulge in immoral practices.

During the year the club initiated new members who had won varsity letters.

In order for the new and old members alike to remain in good standing with the club, they must adhere strictly to its by-laws or suffer expulsion. The boys themselves help to make rules which govern the conduct of athletes in all sports.

Athletic director and head basketball coach, Floyd Eby, is the club advisor. Officers include: Eldon Houston, president; Dave Cranson, vice-president; William Robinson, secretary; Jerry Maxson, treasurer and Gary Brown, sargent at arms.

The club entered a float and won first prize in the Halloween parade. The boys sponsored a dance and worked the basketball concession stand to raise money for their various projects.

F.T.A. Helps Teachers In Classes

Mrs. Shumaker discusses some elementary school problems with prospective teachers.

In an effort to acquaint students wtih the various problems and responsibilities which arise in the teaching profession, the Future Teachers Club was organized.

On several occasions the members taught elementary classes while the teachers were busy with other groups.

Many of the meetings during the year were conducted by various speakers who were directly or indirectly associated with the profession. Through informal discussions the club members picked up many helpful hints and ideas of what to exepct when they enter there future vocation after four years of education in some college or university.

Future Nurses Increase Projects

The members of the Future Nurses Association, which was organized for the purpose of acquainting the members with nursing and related professions, spent a busy year working on the constitution.

Some of the various projects included this year were making favors for Maple Lawn hospital, helping with the blood clinic, and taking numerous field trips to different hospitals.

Some of the girls received actual on the job training as the Coldwater Community Health Center employed them as nurses' aides. The work which they did included working in the kitchen, serving meals to various patients and even feeding some of the people unable to eat by themselves.

Several speakers were on hand at the meetings to acquaint the would-be nurses with problems and advantages of the different positions in which a nurse might serve.

The officers are president, Connie Parshall; vice-president, Virginia Vice; secretary, Loralee Myers; treasurer, Barbara Asberry; and advisors, Miss Steffaniak and Miss Brown.

Hi-C, Horizon Clubs Promote Good Fellowship

In order to promote Christian living and offer an opportunity for Christian fellowship, the Hi-C Club participated in several activities throughout the year. Included in these events were Youth for Christ meetings, a Halloween party, and many noon meetings. Entertainment was provided in the form of Bible games and guest speakers.

Most of the members of the club are ardent church-goers. The meetings were usually held, not during school time, but during noon hours in the band room. Various church denominations were represented in this young people's group.

The officers were: president, Keith Tice; vice-president, Bob Letherer; secretary and treasurer, Beverly Wortz. Mr. Hamlin advised the group.

The freshman and sophomore Horizon Clubs are a division of Campfire Girls. The purpose of the groups is to promote interest in social understanding and learning to associate amicably with fellow members.

Some of their worthwhile projects this year included collecting clothing for needy families and entertaining and making favors for the people at the County Farm.

Sophomore officers were: president, Marilyn Sanford; vice-president, Jane Evans; secretary, Connie Odden; treasurer, Janet Goodholm.

Librarians, Office Help, International Relations Club

Two of the less publicized and yet most helpful organizations in the high school are the librarians and the girls who work in the offices.

None of the girls engaged in the work receive remuneration or reward of any kind with the exception of knowing that they helped do a job that was necessary in the smooth operation of the school.

Mrs. Weiler's girls help issue books and maintain good shelf order in the study hall library.

The office help runs errands, answers telephones, does typing and any other odd jobs which need to be done around school.

The International Relations Club was organized to better acquaint students with problems of other countries and in that way create better relations.

As one of the projects for the year Coldwater represented Mexico in the mock United Nations assembly held at Hillsdale College. Another activity the club sponsored was a Pan-American Day assembly in honor of the Pan-American Union.

Officers of the club were as follows: president, Ben Burk; vice-president, Bob Rice; secretary, Ruth Anderson. Mr. Renshaw advised the group.

Band Campaigns For New Uniforms

Work! Work! Work! were the watchwords of Mr. Chester Curry, band director, and his assistant, Mrs. Waive Wardwell, as the senior high band began the year by doing half-time performances at the home football games.

Among the many annual school events that the band took part in during the school year were two concerts, one in the fall and one in the spring. They also attended the annual U. of M. Band day, along with various ensemble contests.

In the past the bands have been referred to as the "A" band and "B" band. This year Mr. Curry called them the senior high and junior high bands respectively. The junior high section included more than 100 students who some day hope to step up to the big band.

A small section of the band also took their instruments to the home basketball games to play for the fans. The senior high group then participated in a contest at Sturgis where they came out with third prize.

The band undertook a very tedious new project this year with the help of the band parents. Through many projects such as: selling candy, knife sharpeners, giving a "chile" supper, presenting a boxing match and the U. S. Navy Band, they have raised a fund large enough to purchase new band uniforms to replace the old ones.

The main purpose of the junior high band was to prepare beginning musicians for the high school band. The students, under the direction of Mr. Chester Curry and Mrs. Waive Wardwell, were taught the fundamentals of marching and the correct method for playing the various instruments.

During the year the students participated in the Halloween Parade, Navy Band Parade and the Memorial Day Parade.

Besides contributing a uniform, the band members sold boxing tickets and candy bars to raise money for the purchase of new uniforms for the senior high band. They also sold forget-me-nots for the V.F.W.

The newest vocal group this year was composed of ten junior high girls called the junior high ensemble who were selected by their director, Miss Arlene Ritsema.

The group performed in various community functions, such as the Kiwanis, various church groups, and the annual Valentine Formal.

Senior Music Groups Active In Community

The Cardinal Choir, composed of about sixty selected high school voices, worked very diligently during the past year as they desired to become an A Capella group. The year's highlights included the Christmas vespers, which were presented to the community, an assembly, and The Sacred Cantatta, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," in cooperation with senior high band to present a spring concert.

The climax of the year was a trip to East Lansing to participate in the Michigan Class B choral concert.

The officers were: president, Mary Carlisle; vice-president and librarian, Connie Parshall; secretary, Carolyn Wooster.

Four boys known as the Card Tunes became one of the sidelights of the music department. The boys entertained at many places around the town and school, including the Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club and several assemblies.

Singers Entertain At Hospital, Concerts

The Redbird Choir, directed by Miss Arlene Ritsema, is a choral group composed of junior high students. Meeting three times a week, the group was taught the fundamentals of group singing and harmony. One of the year's activities was the Thanksgiving assembly presented to the students.

Even if the students never use the skills gained in chorus class, the understanding and appreciation of music they have learned will provide many pleasures for them in future years.

The Cardinal Aires directed by Miss Arlene Ritsema, features the vocal harmony of nine select senior high girls who were outstanding Cardinal Choir. These girls met once a week, usually at noon on Monday, for rehearsal. Most of their numbers were performed with no accompaniment.

They have entertained on several different occasions at such places as Kiwanis, local church gatherings, school assemblies and various dinners.

Glee Clubs Participate In Assemblies

Sports are not the only interest which high school boys have. The Boys' Glee Club, directed by Miss Ritsema, is composed of twelve boys who practice twice a week in the Church of Christ basement. The boys provided entertainment for the patients of Maple Lawn Hospital and sang in many high school assemblies.

In April they participated in the "Song Fest" in Lansing, an annual choral review presented by all the Class "B" high school choruses in Michigan, and to conclude the year's activities in May they sponsored, along with the rest of the choral groups, the spring choral festival.

Due to the overflow of students interested in singing, a Girls' Glee Club was organized to give all a chance to participate. The club was composed of twenty-three senior high girls who rehearsed twice a week. They practiced spirituals, old favorites, popular tunes, and close harmonizing.

Under the direction of Miss Arlene Ritsema, the girls entertained for various service clubs and sang in the annual Christmas Assembly. With the experience gained this year, many girls will move up to the Cardinal Choir.

New Coach Introduces New System

Coldwater high school's 1955 varsity football squad, though not compiling an impressive win-loss record, laid a firm foundation on which to build for future years.

☆

Frank Kapral, in his first season here as coach, was faced with two problems: to rebuild the team completely, and to inaugurate an entirely different style of play.

☆

The Cardinals opened their season against an improved Hillsdale team, which took advantage of fumbles and interceptions to win.

☆

Then the team went into a four-game defensive relapse, with lopsided losses to Albion, Lakeview, Adrian, and Marshall. Three Rivers powered out a close victory, then the Cards scared East Lansing before the Trojans (Twin-Valley co-champions) came from behind for a 28-12 victory.

☆

With a 12-0 loss to Sturgis, the Cards completed a paradoxical season in which all their points were scored on the road — they were shut out in their four games at Cardinal field.

☆

In March, Coach Kapral, with the acceptance of his resignation by the school board, left Coldwater and went to Dartmouth College where he became the line coach for the freshman squad. According to the coach, this was an opportunity which comes only once in a lifetime, and he could hardly have refused. The students of Coldwater wished him good luck in his future capacity.

Fans Stay Behind Team -- Reserves Lose Close Ones

Though they picked up but one victory during the 1955 season, Coldwater's reserve football squad, directed by Coach Gerald Weaver, experienced a better season than the record would indicate.

Three of the junior Cards' five defeats came by a one-touchdown margin or less. Aside from the team's slow start, they compiled a creditable defensive record. Lack of scoring punch cost the reserves a better won-lost showing.

Experience gained by the team members should help to shape Coldwater varsity football fortunes in the seasons to come.

The squad was composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores with a few juniors who needed added playing time to make the varsity. Coach Weaver stressed teamwork, sportsmanship and cooperation at all times. The strong desire to win became the ultimate wish of each boy as the team fought the close defensive battles.

Cardinal Cagers Try But Do Not Succeed

Although the 1955-56 edition of the varsity basketball squad was the worst, record-wise, in many years, the boys proved that despite defeat after defeat, a team could still go into every game and give their all for their coach and school. Next year, with six returning lettermen, the Cardinals should be once again in the thick of the conference race.

An experienced Three Rivers squad, taking advantage of Cardinal fouls, cashed in from the free-throw line to defeat the Cards, 55-52. Marshall, scoring 22 in the final quarter, overcame a Coldwater lead to win, 68-61. The Cardinal clad cagers were dumped, 81-63, in the capitol city by a hot shooting East Lansing club. Again succumbing to a fourth quarter rally, the Cards were turned back, 77-58, by the Albion Wildcats.

In a heart-breaking one point defeat, the Red Birds were racked by the Hillsdale Hornets, 62-61. A sharp shooting Sturgis aggregation rushed past the fading Cards, 68-50, at Sturgis. The Ebymen were bumped, 78-62, by the Lakeview Spartans.

Friday the thirteenth was the Cards lucky day as they eked out a 55-51 victory over the Adrian Maples. The Three Rivers Wildcats spoiled the inaugural of the new gym by dumping a jittery club, 57-54. Despite a record shattering 88 points, Coldwater was turned back, 90-88, by the red-hot Marshall team. A poor second quarter enabled the Albion Wildcats to pull away to a 74-64 victory over the hapless team.

A hard-fighting band of Cardinals rallied to defeat the Hillsdale Hornets, 61-59 in overtime. Sturgis, tied for the league lead, out lasted the Cards, 80-57. Coldwater went down to the high-flying Lakeview Spartans, 68-43. The Cards lost another heart-breaker, 80-78, to the Adrian Maples. In the last regular game of the season, East Lansing defeated Coldwater, 75-50.

In the first game of the District Tournament, a desperate Coldwater rally fell short as Hillsdale knocked Coldwater out of the tourney, 64-56.

Wrestlers Compete In First Season

In its first year of organized competition, the wrestling team, coached by Frank Kapral, compiled a satisfactory record against more experienced opposition.

The squad's three victories included 40-20 and 38-16 decisions over Portage, and a 41-10 shellacking of Allegan. Four of the team's five defeats came at the hands of Twin-Valley schools: 32-18 and 31-16 defeats by Adrian, and tough 31-18 and 24-22 losses to Sturgis. Charlotte also defeated the Cardinal grapplers, 30-22.

With 15 of this year's 18-man squad coming back in 1957, future wrestling teams will have an experienced backlog of personnel from which to draw.

Varsity Baseball

As spring approached and baseball season drew near, the coming year looked bright for Coach Frank Lowe and his squad, which included six returning lettermen. The Cards were again in the thick of the conference race with Ed Davenport, Gary Brown, Harold Colvin, Eldon Houston, Larry Ford, and Jerry Maxson returning from last year's varsity.

Last year's squad, which won 13 games, including the Battle Creek Invitational Tournament, graduated eight first-line players, but Coach Lowe filled these vacancies with seasoned veterans and hustling newcomers.

In addition to playing seven conference teams, Vicksburg, Hillsdale, Union City, and Bronson were included in the schedule.

The varsity tennis team, sparked by eight returning lettermen, had two new coaches, Floyd Eby and Ralph Moden. The eight veterans were senior Dave Cranson, juniors Bill Aitchison, Dick Green, Ron Picard, and Bill Robinson and sophomores Rollie Scheidler, Bob Weaver, and Chuck Young.

The squad opened their season by entertaining a young Marshall squad at Waterworks Park on Monday, April 9. In the following weeks the Cards had matches with Lakeview, Albion, and Three Rivers in preparation for the annual Twin Valley meet held May 12 in Adrian. The squad completed the season by competing in the regional tournament, May 18-19, at Stowe Stadium in Kalamazoo.

The 1956 season marked the fourth year for the Coldwater High School varsity golf squad in Twin Valley competition.

Led by Paul Douglas and Tom Adams, two of last year's top medalists, the team hoped for a successful 1956 schedule.

At the Country Club Floyd Eby, as in past years, trained the boys in correct golfing procedures.

Most of the practice work involved learning to keep the eyes on the ball, correct arm positions, pivoting of the feet and use of the wrists to get maximum power.

Varsity Track

With only four returning lettermen from last year's team that captured third place in the conference meet, Coach William Fairman faced a major rebuilding job. Roland Petersen, senior quarter-miler, who won that event in the conference meet last year, headed the list that included Gordon Porter, junior mile medalist, Dewayne Cox, junior pole vaulter, and Paul Douglas, junior high jumper.

Graduation seriously depleted the ranks of experienced hurdlers and weight men while several veteran dash men were lost to track for various reasons.

The squad had seven warm-up meets, including the Portage Relays at Western Michigan College and the Albion College Relays at Albion, before the conference meet held Tuesday, May 8, at Cardinal Field.

Cheerleaders Adopt New Constitution

The varsity and reserve cheerleaders of Coldwater High School, supervised by Miss Phyllis Coscarelly, further identified themselves with the athletic program by drawing up a constitution and adopting for their own use many training rules of the C-Club.

During the football and basketball seasons, the cheerleaders devoted many hours to the development and perfection of new cheers, by diligently practicing two hours every Thursday night.

The co-captains of the varsity squad were Nancy Johnson and Judie Dillon, while the reserves were co-captained by Diana Mooi and Janet Burlew.

The cheerleaders also made and hung game signs, decorated the goal posts for all home football games, made the dummy to burn at the traditional pep rally before the Sturgis football game, passed the blanket at the annual polio benefit basketball game, and sponsored a pep assembly to round out a very busy year.

Marion Zeigler of the maintenance staff provided the transportation to all out-of-town games.

People

"The world is good, and the people are good"

People make impressions wherever they go. Each high school class leaves behind certain completed tasks and mannerisms. The individuals depicted in this Cardinal leave behind these pictorial records of the school members and activities.

E. Byron Thomas, Superintendent of Schools.
Axner Olson, Junior High School Principal.

Administration Plans New Buildings

Superintendent of Schools for eight years, E. Byron Thomas, came to C.H.S. in 1944 as Senior High Principal. In 1948 he accepted the position of Superintendent of Schools.

Senior High Principal, Kermit Dennis, has taught science and acted as Junior and Senior high principal at C.H.S. for a total of twenty-four years.

Axner Olson, Junior High Principal, has been a teacher of science and mathematics, and has served as assistant football and baseball coach during his twelve years at C.H.S.

The second and fourth Mondays of every month finds the Coldwater school board diligently studying the everyday problems which confront the public schools.

The board is made up of seven members: Stanley Borden, president; Dr. H. R. Weidner, vice-president; Albin Obed, treasurer; Margaret Olmsted, secretary; Edward Holtz, trustee; J. Albert Long, trustee; James Snyder, trustee.

The purpose of the board is to discuss and find solutions to complaints issued to them and to plan ways of expanding educational opportunities such as the new senior high school and elementary schools.

Scholastic Ability High In Class Of '56

Ascending from the state of sophomore, the Class of '56 advanced into the junior year. Dave Harris was elected class president, and under his direction the hard working group presented "Queens Haven," the homecoming dance featuring two of their girls, Molly Milnes and Mary Carlisle, on the court.

The class sponsored a spaghetti supper and the play, "Seventeen," to raise funds for the traditional Jr.-Sr. Banquet and prom which was presented to the seniors in May. During the summer the class turned out to work in the park concession stand.

They were seniors at last. Roland Petersen was elected mayor and the class elected Jim Smith as president. Molly Milnes reigned as queen at the homecoming dance, "Regal Splendor," with Mary Carlisle and Alice Swain on the court. The two top students scholastically were Ben Burk and David Lyon, who headed the Top Ten list. The faculty chose Mary Carlisle and David Lyon as Ideal Girl and Boy, respectively, and Ruth Herman was chosen by the students and faculty as D.A.R. Girl. "Seven Keys to Baldpate," a three act melodrama, was presented by the senior thespians. To build up their treasury, many class members spent their basketball evenings working in the concessions stand.

After the Washington field trip, the class of 1956 concluded its high school days with the graduating ceremony.

The ability to think straight, some knowledge of the past, some vision of the future, some skill to do useful service, some urge to fit that service into the wellbeing of the community — these are the most vital things education must try to produce. If we can achieve them in the citizens of our land, then, given the right to knowledge and the free use thereof, we shall have brought to America the wisdom and the courage to match her destiny. — Virginia C. Gildersleeve.
